SEPT. REPORT 2012

We are airborne

As of September 25th the Discipleship Training School (DTS) I am staffing officially began. All sixteen students arrived safely from all over the world for this six month school and collectively we represent 10 different nations. It has been such a joy to meet the students we prayed for these past few months. We took the students to a rustic cabin in the mountains for a few days to bond as a team. God reminded me of his goodness and love as I listened to each person's testimony. Many of the students expressed that they feel God calling them to full time missions. This group is full of men and women who have a hunger and passion to go deeper with God and be transformed. I feel honored to be a part of this group. I am looking forward to seeing God work in and through these students as they study in Vancouver and go to Asia for their missions trip. Like an airplane, the DTS is now airborne. I am expecting some turbulence on this flight, but I am trusting that God, our pilot, will guide us every moment of our journey.

I'm rich!

Do you ever stop to think about the awesome people God has placed in your life? This month I was struck by the relationships God has blessed me with. My leaders and friends willingly join me for coffee to talk about life while we speak words of encouragement to each other. We pray for together as we keep each other accountable. I realized that I am relationally rich. I may not make the big bucks but I have relationships that can last a lifetime: in Vancouver, across the USA and around the world. What a gift!

Team building games with the students. I'm the tall one at the back of the line.
