To Home And Back Again

Greetings from good Ol' Canada! I am back in Vancouver after spending 6 weeks in the USA. I was in North Carolina for 1 month and Florida for 2 weeks, reconnecting with friends and family.

While in North Carolina, I was invited to speak with various at my church. I spoke eleven times during my visit which was the most public speaking I have done within a months time. I discovered I really enjoy speaking with smaller groups because it allows for more questions and dialogue.

While at home I was able to hear more detailed accounts of people's lives from the past year and a half. I was encouraged by stories of God's faithfulness, love and redemption in their lives.

These stories reminded me that God is actively pursuing people everywhere, not just in foreign countries.

Therefore, following God starts with the little choices I make in my everyday life, no matter where I live. God is the same and daily invites me and you into a deeper relationship with Him.

I pray that you would encounter God amidst the normalcy of life and know God more, in your head and your heart.

My YWAM Commitment

Now that I am back in Vancouver you may be thinking: What's next?

Well, let me tell ya.

My commitment:

-I made a 2 year commitment to YWAM in Vancouver as of April 2013. I have one and a half years left of my commitment.

What's next?:

-Bible course: I have applied for a 2 year online Bible course with YWAM. I will go through the entire Bible using the Inductive method, I am very excited for this in-depth study of scripture.

Next trip?:

To Be Announced:

-I am brainstorming about places to go, training schools to staff and trips to be a part of.

Thank you for your continued support through finances and prayer. I am so grateful for your partnership which makes it possible for me to work with Youth With A Mission.

Joys:

-getting to spend 6 weeks in the USA with family and friends. It was my first time home in one and a half years.

-a new home!: before I left for America I had to move out of my communal house. I have moved into my new home. I live with other YWAM staff and Discipleship Training School (DTS) students

Prayer requests:

-wisdom to help me decide what roles to play in my next year and a half with Youth With A Mission

-monthly financial support: pray for more people to consider supporting me on a monthly basis

-Discipleship Training School (DTS): Currently there is a DTS happening in Vancouver. There are 15 students. Pray for transformation and life altering encounters with God.

Please prayerfully consider partnering with me through financial support
